

Ms. Julie Saare Edmonds:

Please accept the following article on behalf of our small family farm that has been in operation since April 1969. Forty Five years of operation has provided a community of the SF Bay Area with choices of turf grass that has improved real estate values, provided a greater tax base due to this as well as improved the physical and mental wellbeing of four plus generations. The urban horticultural environment is better off due to the diligence of our industries and the implementation of our products.

We have found a way to save 69% of applied water to our products and still have them useful! We hope that some will have an open mind in order to embrace the same water savings that Australia, Dubai and others in the Middle East now enjoy.

Wish us well on our journey to continue to provide quality agricultural products for the urban environment.

Regards,

Erin Gil
